hi milo! i know you are probably swamped with the AOS rewrite at the moment, but i was wondering if you have tentative plans to write more installments in the world of gardian series?

additionally, i found your “high disturbance” article very interesting and you seem to be very knowledgeable about ecology and forestry. do you plan to release any other pieces like it in the future?

Hello there!

I do have plans (and always have) to write more installments or side projects in Gardian! Right now, I’m just keeping my focus on AOS, but I’ve been writing with the intention of expanding the series over time.

Thank you for the compliments :) and yes, I do! I plan on incorporating ecology more into everything I do artistically; Alterlife holds a lot of my love for ecology!
